A Visual Feast

What do you call a mammoth visual arts celebration encompassing five shows over four days in one of the world's largest buildings? It's Artropolis, and it's back at the Merchandise Mart after a super-successful 2007 debut. Browse top-quality antiques and fine art at the International Antiques Fair, or contemporary art at Art Chicago 2008; and find undiscovered talent at The Artist Project; outsider and non-traditional folk art at The Intuit Show; and, new this year, cutting-edge contemporary works at NEXT. F, Sa 11 am-7 pm; Su 11 am-6 pm; M 11 am-4 pm. One-day ticket $20; multi-day pass $25. Kinzie and Wells streets, 800-677-MART, www.artropolischicago.com.
